DETAILED ACTIONContinued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 03/30/05 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1, 4, 9, 11-17, 20-24, 26-28, 30, 31, 33 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gurstein et al. in view of anyone of Barous, Palushi or Stewart.

Gurstein et al. discloses all of the limitations of claims 1 and 17, i.e., a floor edger comprising a first housing (shroud 4) including a first opening and a rotatable abrasive disc (6) located in said opening, said rotatable abrasive disc having a diameter greater than six inches, and a motor (8) operatively connected to said first housing and drivingly connected to said abrasive disc located at least partially in a second opening; a motor controller (25) as discloses in col. 6, lines 33-47 considered to meet all the limitations of claim 17, wherein a fan (18) drivingly connected to the motor and located in the first housing on the shaft (20) between motor (8) and the pulley (54) (05:65-67), except for disclosing a third opening or a port in the first housing wherein an air path is defined between the port and the first opening through the fan.

Vacuum ports to withdraw dust and debris are known in the art as evident by Barous, Palushi or Stewart. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to modify the invention of Gurstein et al. with a port and vacuum device as taught by anyone of Barous, Palushi or Stewart to collect the generated dust and debris.

Regarding claims 4-8 and 20-23, Gurstein et al. meets the limitations, e.g., col. 3, line 46 (US 5,004,944); 2.5 hp.

Regarding claims 9, 11, 13, 15-16 and 24-26, 28, 30 and 31, Gurstein et al. meets the limitations, e.g., second housing frame (3).

4. Claims 2-8, 18-23, and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Prior Art (Gurstein et al. in view of anyone of in Barous, Palushi or Stewart) as applied to claims 1 and 17 above, further in view of McCutchen (6,540,598).

Gurstein et al. modified by anyone of in Barous, Palushi or Stewart indicated above meets all the limitations of the above claims, except for the specific size of the disc, weight of the edger, rpm and hp of the motor. The edger as disclosed is dimensioned and proportionally sized for a disc having 20" diameter, therefore modifying or proportionally downsizing the edger of Prior Art, for a disc of about 7", a common commercially available size as evident by McCutchen (col. 3, line 46), depending on the workpiece and or operational parameters, e.g., grinding small or hard to reach areas, a modification well within the knowledge of one of ordinary skill in the art, would reduce the weight if not three times smaller, sufficiently lighter to meet the limitations as recited.

Regarding claims 2, 3, 18 and 19, Prior Art further modified in view of McCutchen, i.e., for use with a smaller pad, e.g., 7" depending on workpiece and/or operational parameters meets the limitations, since pads having 6 to 8 inch diameters are common in the art.

Regarding claims 4-8 and 20-23, even though modified Prior Art further is considered to meet the limitations, however in the alternative, it is also noted it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the specific motor having desired specification, e.g., rpm, hp for an intended use, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 03/30/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The argument that Gurstein does not disclose all of the limitations of now amended claims 1 and 17, is not persuasive since Gurstein modified for a port would meet all of the limitations, e.g., third opening.

In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

The argument that Gurstein does not disclose all of the limitations of claims 15, 16, 30 and 31, i.e., the handle is attached to the first housing and not the second is not persuasive since Gurstein discloses, e.g., in Fig. 6, or (07:35-37) that the handle (26) is attached to frame (3) through slots in shroud (4).
